Armorial Bookplates.

At the suggestion of several gentlemen, who have most kindly placed their collections at my disposal, I intend to issue a second series of photographic facsimiles of Armorial Bookplates.

These plates will be selected not only for their variety, but also for their design. The plates used by the literati of the present and past centuries, although some may be poor in design, e.g. the Bookplate of Gibbon the historian, will also find a place in the series.

The work will be issued in monthly parts, the first part being ready for distribution on the 16th December, 1891.

The price per part will be 1/–, and 2d. for postage, and will contain 12 plates. Subscribers paying 12/- in advance for the year will receive the first 12 parts, containing 144 plates, post free. This work can only be obtained direct from Residue to my son George Pix, executor. My eldest son, William Pix deceased, and his son William. To Richard Kilbourne, Esq., overseer of this will, £6 13*s*. 4*d*. Witnesses: Samuel Boys, Richard Kilburne, Thomas Chittenden, and Samuel Birchett. Proved 30 June 1663 at Canterbury, Book 53, fo. 76.

Will of JOHN MAWLE, of Cranbrooke, Mercer, dated 23 Dec. 1742. I bequeath my messuages or tenements, with shops, etc., in Cranbrook, held by lease from the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, now in my own occupation and in occupation of Jane and Elizabeth Amos, to my two nephews, Joseph Mawle of Horsmonden, Shopkeeper, and William Pix of Northiam, Yeoman, on trust that they sell the said premises and pay off debts. Half of the overplus to my said nephew William Pix, my nephew Samuel Pix, and Joseph Pix, the children of my nephew George Pix deceased, the child of my niece Sarah Woollett, my niece Elizabeth the wife of Richard Munn, and my said nieces, Ann Pix, Mary Pix, and Jane Pix, in equal shares and proportions, and the other half-part thereof to and amongst my said nephew Joseph Mawle, my nephew John Mawle, my nephew William Jordan, and my niece Elizabeth the wife of John Ingram, in equal shares and proportions. I give and bequeath all other my goods, etc., thus:—half-part to and amongst my said nephew William Pix, Samuel Pix, Joseph Pix, the children of my said nephew George Pix, the children of my said niece Sarah Woollett, at age of 21, my said niece Elizabeth the wife of Richard Munn (for her sole and separate use, exclusive of her said husband, Richard Munn), and my said nieces Ann Pix, Mary Pix, and Jane Pix, in equal shares and proportions, and the other half-part thereof to and amongst my said nephews Joseph Mawle, John Mawle, and William Jordan, and my said niece the wife of John Ingram in equal proportions. I appoint my said nephews Joseph Mawle and William Pix executors. Witnesses: Elizabeth Bodden, Sarah Smither, and William Cuckow. Proved 20 January 1742 at Consistory Court, Canterbury, Book 62, fo. 186.

Will of Captain GEORGE BANASTRE, of Kensington, Middlesex, dated 24 April 1744. Captain of an independent Company of invalids, doing duty at Chester. Funeral charges not to exceed £10. To my wife Elizabeth Banastre, my lands and tenements in the parishes of Ruislip and Kensington. Those in Ruislip after my decease. Those in Kensington to go to her after the decease of James Banister, Gentleman, and Mary his wife, and, after the decease of all three, the property in Kensington to go to James Banister Parker, son of Thomas Banister, and grandson of the said James and Mary Banister. Also to my wife, the ground with stable and buildings in a common stable-yard near King's Square, Kensington, with the use of the horsepond there—after the decease of James and Mary Banister; afterwards to George Banister, the grandson of James and Mary. Also to my wife, four pews in the Parish Church of Kensington, after the decease of James and Mary Banister; then to said George Banister. Also to my wife, £100, and my large silver waiter, silver tea-kettle, lamp, and silver dish, silver coffee-pott, tea-pott, and silver equipage belonging to the tea-table, and such part of the china ware as she shall be inclined to dispose of to her relations and friends.

To my cousin William Pix of Northiam, son of my unkle William Pix late of Ewhurst, 1 large silver cup and silver salver for a cover; one silver quart tankard; 1 silver pint mugg, and two ½ pint silver cans; two silver hand-salvers and 3 silver casters; 12 silver-handled knives, 12 fforks, and 12 spoons in a case, and 6 small silver knives, fforks, spoons, in another case; 1 silver soupe ladle, 1 marrow spoon, an orange strainer, 3 old silver spoons, and apostle's spoon, and 2 old salts, 3 pair of candlesticks, 2 with socketts, a large silver-handled knife and fork, 2 ditto in a shagreen case, 4 salts and 4 shovells, and a silver stand for snuffers, a candlestick for a wax candle, and 1 silver funnell. Item, to the said William Pix, £100, six months after my decease; also my silver hilted sword.

Item, to my friends the Rev. Richard Ward and Mr William Banister of the Strand, Stationer, my household goods, linnen, books, and furniture, on special trust to allow my wife Elizabeth Banastre to have same; after her decease to go to my said cousin William Pix, his brothers and sisters at that time living, equally. To my wife, her own apparel, gold watch, and furniture with all her jewels and rings. To my niece, Miss Mary Darel, my own gold watch and chain, and £10 to alter and improve it. To John Pix, son of my unkle Charles Pix, £100, to be paid in a month after my wife's decease. The residue to the said Richard Ward and William Banister, on trust, to invest in South Sea Old Annuities, for my wife Elizabeth Banastre, then (with all debts due) to my said cousin William Pix, son of my unkle William Pix, and to Joseph Pix and Samuel Pix, two other sons of my late unkle William Pix, equally. To Richard Ward and Wm Banister, ten guineas apiece. I appoint my said wife Elizabeth Banastre and Mr William Banister, of the Strand, Stationer, executors. Witnesses: Henry Emmett, John Westley, Samuel Ryley. Proved 27 April 1744 in Consistory Court of the Bishop of London, before the Surrogate of the Vicar-General.

[Note: A John Banister, ob. 1679, buried in Westminster Abbey, is mentioned in Edward Hatton's 'New View of London, or, an ample account of that City,' 1708, printed for John Nicholson, at the "King's Arms," in Little Britain.]

A branch of the Pix family appears to have settled in Northamptonshire. See reference to Charles Pix, of the Volunteer Corps, Peterborough, 24 Oct. 1745, in Sweeting's 'Northampt. Notes and Queries,' vol. i., p. 254. Descendants of this branch occur at Peterborough in more recent times, and appear to have intermarried with the Banastre Family.

Palmes of Lindley, co. York.†

The brass from which the annexed facsimile is taken is on the wall of the North Transept of the Parish Church at Otley, in the West Riding of the County of York.

On the left is a Pedigree of the Family of Lyndley of Lyndley Hall (about three miles from Otley), now owned by the Fawkes's of Farnley, and on the right is the Pedigree of the Palmes Family, the main stem of which was, and now is, of Naburn, near York.

Guy Palmes, the second son of William Palmes of Naburn, married Jane, daughter and coheiress of John Drew of Bristowe. He died 11 November 1516, at St. Dunstan's in the West, Farringdon Ward Without, and was succeeded by his eldest son Bryan, who married Isabel, daughter and coheiress of Thomas Lyndley of Lyndley, as shewn in the pedigree on the brass. He died on the 19th of October 1528, æt. 29, and was succeeded by his son Francis Palmes of Lyndley, who married Margaret, daughter of Roger Corbett of Norton in Shropshire. Francis died in 1568, æt. 44, and was succeeded by his son Sir Francis Palmes of Lyndley, Knight, a Justice of the Peace of the West Riding of Yorkshire in the second year of the reign of King James. He married Mary, the daughter and coheiress of Stephen Hadnall of Shervil in the County of Southampton.

For further particulars of this Family, see Wilkinson's 'History of Broughton Gifford,' 'Visitations of Yorkshire, 1584—1612, and 1666,' and Wright's 'History of Rutland.'

* Since first Baronet of Hawstead and Hardwick. In his private account book in my possession he thus acknowledges the payment of the legacy:—"April & May 1615. R^d^ w^ch^ my ffather bequeathed to me by his Will w^ch^ was p^d^ by my Brother Two hundred pounds."

Genealogical Notes and Queries.

BISHOP CURTEIS. (See p. 16.)

I suppose your correspondent (A. G.) knows obvious references to Bishop Curteis in Lower's 'Sussex Worthies,' p. 114; 'Sussex Arch. Collections,' vol. x., p. 53; 'Athen. Cantab.,' vol. i., 455. Is the Sussex family Curteis of Windmill Hill any relict of the Bishop?

CRAWFURD—GIBBS—PAYNE.

Wanted the marriage of John Crawfurd of Inner Temple to Anne Gibbs of Laleham, 1715—1725. Also baptism of Gibbs Crawfurd (1732), son of the above, and his marriage to Anna Payne 23 November 1760.

C. A.

DUDLEY BARD alias PRINCE DUDLEY.

In the 'Collectanea Topographica et Genealogica,' vol. iv., p. 59, is an account of the family of Bard, from which it appears that the Rev. George Bard, Vicar of Staines, Middlesex (son of William, and grandson of Ralph Bard of North Kelsey, co. Lincoln), married Susan, daughter of John Dudley, and died in 1616, leaving issue two sons: Maximilian, who married and had issue; and Henry, a Colonel in the Royal Army, who in 1646 was created Viscount Bellamont in Ireland, and died in Persia in 1660. Lord Bellamont married in 1645 Anne, daughter of Sir William Gardiner, Knt., of Peckham, and by her had issue two daughters, his coheiresses, of whom Anne (sic, but it should be Frances) was mistress of Prince Rupert, and by him was mother of a son Dudley Bard, who was slain at the siege of Buda in 1686, aged about twenty, and who was known in the Imperial Army as "Prince Dudley."

The following is a copy of his short will, registered P.C.C., 4 Foot:—

"In the name of God Amen. I Rupert Dudley, in good & perfect health both in body and mind, doe make and ordaine my deare mother, my Lady Frances Bellermont [sic], to be my sole executor in case of my decease, whereunto I have sett my hand and seale this present sixth day of May, in the second yeare of the reigne of our Sovereigne lord James the second, by the Grace of God, of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith. [Signed] 'Rupert D.' Signed, sealed, and published in the presence of us, John Price, Jane Jevon, Frances Price, Margarett Edmonds."

Probate was granted at London 10 January to "D'næ Franciscæ Bellamont," the sole executrix.

The arms of Susan Dudley, mother of Lady Bellamont, are given in Add. MS. (B.M.) 5533 (from which the pedigree in the 'Collectanea' is compiled) as "Or, three lions passant azure within a bordure of the same."

This coat (but with two lions and the bordure engrailed) was granted by Cooke, Clarenceux, in 1588 to John Dudley of Hackney, Serjeant of the Pastry to Queen Elizabeth. Was he Susan's father? In his will proved in the P.C.C. 15 February 1593, he mentions among other children a daughter Susan, then unmarried.

I also wish to know the parentage of "William Bard of North Kelsey, Esq.," who, according to Dugdale's 'Visitation of Lancashire' in 1664-5, was the first husband of Isabella, née "Gresbroke," of Shenstone, co. Stafford, afterwards the wife of Major Henry Byrom of Byrom, slain at Edgehill 23 October 1642.

COLLARD AND DENNE COFFIN PLATES, CHISLET, KENT.

Since publishing my History of Chislet, wherein I give a faithful transcript of every monumental inscription, I have been favoured by Mr. E. M. Collard, of Herne Bay, with copies of all the plates upon the coffins in the Denne Vault. This is situate in the churchyard, beneath the East window. What appears above ground has been published. An interment having unexpectedly taken place within this vault, Mr. Collard (who compiled the elaborate pedigree already printed) copied all the coffin plates, and has forwarded them to me for publication.

Genealogical Notes and Queries.

BARD. (See p. 64.)

I have much pleasure in telling 'H. S. G.' that William Bard (born 28 September 1615, died 5 February 1639-40) was second son of Thomas Bard of North Kelsey, by Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Rossiter of Somerby, son of Ralph Barde and Margaret Gilby. ('Visit. of Linc., 1562-4.') Also, that the first Viscount Bellamont had a son Charles, second Viscount, slain 1685, and a third daughter and coheiress "Persiana," from whom descend the Marquis d'Harcourt, Madame de MacMahon, and others.

MYLNGATE.

The following notes on the above subject, from the 'Manchester Court Leet Records' and elsewhere, may be of use in answer to the queries of your correspondent, Mr. J. H. Bainbrigge, on p. 384 of Volume IV.

At a Court Leet, held in 1557, the jury returned that Edmund Bainbridge was next heir of William Milnegate, being husband of his daughter and heiress Ellen.

In 1565 a suit was held in the Duchy Court of Lancaster, in which the plaintiffs are described as Robert Baynbrigge and Isabel his wife, daughter and heiress of William Mylnegate.

The Editor, Mr. J. P. Earwaker, points out that these do not agree, unless two brothers had married two sisters.

In 1577 one William Bainbridge is described as "of Lockington, co. Leicester, gent."

The Mylngates appear in Manchester documents from a very early date. In 1318 Robert, son of Hugh del Mylngate, granted half a burgage in Manchester to Richard his son—Henry Boteronde, then provost of the town, being witness. ('Transactions of the Lancashire and Cheshire Antiquarian Society for 1886,' p. 216.) The name also occurs in a deed dated 1327, still in the possession of the Corporation of Manchester, Mr. Earwaker says.

I am informed on good authority that the Radcliffes of Ordsal had, at one time, a town house in the Mill Gate, and it seems highly probable from the evidence of the baptismal register extract, and of the Radcliffe Arms in the Lockington Church window, that these Mylngates were really Radcliffes of the Mylngate or Millgate.

Two streets of the name still remain—Long Millgate and Old Millgate, but as a family name it is not now to be found in the 'Manchester Directory.'

With this single entry for 1713 the first Register Book of the Parish of Maxey concludes. In all, 1388 burials are recorded. Some years are clearly imperfect. For 23 years, at different times, there is not a single entry: the longest such period being 1645—1653. For the remaining 153 years these figures would give an average of 9 per annum. The population probably varied from 350 to 450.

Society of Gray's Inn; was buried in the great Western Ile of Chapel, between the four large Pillars; aged fifty four years.

Mem. M^r^ Cornwall died Jan^ry^ 2^d^ about halfpast nine in the morning at his House at Whitehall after a very short Illness. His Death was very unexpected till within a few Hours previous to it. On opening his Body, a large Quantity of cold water was found in his Stomach; and one of his Collar Bones turning with a sharp Point to his Lungs had formed an Abcess and occasioned his Death. He was first chosen Speaker of the House of Commons, Oct^r^ 31^st^ 1780; and again by the succeeding Parliament, May 18^th^ 1784. He filled the Chair with uncommon Dignity, etc., and sat in it for the last Time Dec^r^ 29, 1788. During the Recess of Parliament, he lived in the Master's Lodgings, as his own House at Barton Priors, his former Residence was too small for his Retinue since his Advancement to the Chair. The Speaker in his Person was handsome, tall, and comely; and in his Manners extremely affable, polite, and engaging.

Wm. Rawlins, Chaplain of S^t^ Cross.

MYLNGATE. (See p. 80.)

William Mylnegate occurs bailiff of Lockington in 1540; and left by his Will his lease of the manor of Lockington to his son-in-law Robert Bainbrige. Can any correspondent throw any light on the whereabouts of this Will?

Robert Baynbrige's Will was proved P.C.C. 17 Oct. 1572. (Daper 30.) By it he bequeaths to his son William Baynbrige the lease of the manor of Lockington, which he had by the last Will of William Mingate, his wife's father; and his lands, etc., in Manchester to his wife Isabel for life, remainder to his said son William in fee; and he names his brother-in-law Mr. Edward Beamonte. William Baynbrige purchased the fee simple of the manor of Lockington, 18 July 1576.

It seems that William Milnegate had 3 daughters—Isabel, wife of Robert Baynbrige; Ann, wife of Edward Beaumont of Barrow (cf. Glover's 'Derbyshire,' ii., 88); and Ellen, wife of Edmund Bainbridge. Edmund Bainbridge I have not met with before; he is not named in any pedigree of Bainbrigge.

In 1564 Robert and Isabel Baynbrige sued Henry Adamson for possession of a tenement in Mylnegate Street, Manchester. (Duc. Lanc. Appeals, etc., 7 Eliz.)

In 'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica,' Vol. I., Second Series, a pedigree was given assuming that Colonel Richard Lee, the ancestor of the Lees of Virginia, was seventh son of Sir Robert Lee of Hulcott, instead of being descended from the Shropshire family of Langley and Coton Hall, as had been generally believed.

I propose to shew—

1. That this assumption is prima facie so improbable as to require the strongest confirmation.
2. That no such confirmation exists.
3. That there is convincing evidence to the contrary.

First, as to the improbability of the assumption, it is only necessary to point out that Sir Robert Lee of Hulcott married Lucy Pigott in 1561, and that she was the mother of all his children, whereas the Land Patent Records of Virginia shew that Colonel Richard Lee settled in America about 1641-2, and his will proves that his eldest son was under 18 in 1663. The will was made when the testator was starting for Virginia with a young family 102 years after the marriage of Lucy Pigott. Sir Robert Lee's third son, Benedict, was baptized in 1576, and would therefore have been 87 in 1663. There were only three sons and a daughter between him and Richard.

Secondly, as to the evidence necessary to outweigh the improbability shewn above. Sir Robert Lee's nuncupative will describes him as of Stratford Langton, and shews that he died there, but desired to be buried at Hardwicke. His eldest son was Sir Henry Lee of Ditchley. Colonel Richard Lee describes himself in his will as "lately of Strafford Langton," and one of the family in America called his house Ditchley. That is all. As to any evidence such as one would expect in the way of wills or other documents, correspondence, or armorial bearings, there is absolutely nothing to confirm the original assumption.

Let us take the Stratford clue first. Colonel Richard certainly had a considerable estate in that neighbourhood. He mentions it in his will, and his great-grandson William (son of Thomas Lee of Stratford House) thus refers to it: "By his will he ordered an estate in England (I think) near Stratford by Bow in Middlesex, at that time worth £800 or £900 per annum, to be sold." Now if this estate had been left by Sir Robert Lee to his seventh son, such bequest must have appeared in his will, but there is nothing of the kind, nor anything to shew that he possessed land at Stratford. He seems to have resided there for some time, but was buried in Buckinghamshire, and the fact of Colonel Richard having possessed so considerable an estate rather tells against his having been one of the younger children of so large a family.

Search, however, has been made to ascertain whether there were other Lees in the neighbourhood of Stratford from whom Richard Lee might be descended. The records at Somerset House reveal the following:—

Richard Lee of Stratford Langton occurs 1578 in the will of Thomas Hitchcock.

* Communicated by W. B. Lee, Esq., present representative of the Family of Lee of Coton Hall.

Brian Lee of Stepney (the adjacent parish). Daughter married John Lott 1590.

Gilbert Lee of Stepney. Died 1611.

Fulke Lee of Stepney. Died 1614.

Sir John Lee of Stepney. Married Joan Lott 1633.

Sir Robert Lee of Stepney. Granddaughter married William Cullum 1635.

Humphrey Lee of Stratford Langthorne. Died 1645.

Sarah Lee of Stepney, widow. Died 1656.

It is remarkable that three of the names given above—viz., Gilbert, Fulke, and Humphrey—were in use in the Shropshire family at and before the period in question. See pedigree at the College of Arms. It is known also that Gilbert Lee of the Coton Branch settled in Essex. (Will proved 1621, Dale, 84.)

These records shew that there were plenty of Lees in the neighbourhood of Stratford, and the fact of the emigrant describing himself in 1663 as "lately of Strafford Langton" is therefore no reason for connecting him particularly with Sir Robert Lee who died there in 1616. Such a reason, however, is supplied by the re-appearance in America of the name of Ditchley, and if nothing more were known of the origin of the Virginian Lees the fact of one of them calling his house by that name would raise a strong presumption that they were connected with the Buckinghamshire family, and even if the connection were a distant one we should probably be able to find some other evidence of it. But if Colonel Richard was own brother to Sir Henry Lee of Ditchley, two things at least may be taken for granted. One is that he and his descendants would have continued to bear the Quarendon arms, the other that any son or grandson of his coming to England would have looked to his uncle or cousin at Ditchley as the representative of his family. We shall presently see how far they did this. Meanwhile we have the fact that one of the American branch undoubtedly called his house Ditchley, though it seems doubtful which it was who did so. Mr. Alexander Brown of Norwood, Nelson Co., Va., F.R.H.S., who has taken much trouble with regard to the origin of the Virginian Lees, writes to me: "Philip Lee, grandson of Colonel Richard the emigrant, called one of his plantations 'Lee Langley.' Other seats of the Lees were 'Ditchley,' 'Stratford House,' 'Cobbs,' 'Paradise,' etc., etc., some of them evidently named for seats of the Lees in England." Now Langley was one of the best known seats of the Shropshire family, and if this information was correct, the argument based on the reappearance of Ditchley fell to the ground, the inferences to be drawn from names of places being evenly balanced. Compared with such evidence as will presently be mentioned, they are of little value. In answer to further inquiries, Mr. Brown repeated his statement as to Philip calling his estate Lee Langley, and gave as his opinion that Ditchley was built by Hancock, youngest son of Colonel Richard, about 1687. And in a subsequent letter he enclosed the following, written to himself:—

"915 N. Charles Street, Baltimore.

"Dear Sir,—Pardon my delay in replying to your letter in regard to Lee Langley and Lee Hall. I have just been informed by Mr. Joseph Packard of Baltimore, a native of Fairfax Co., Va., that the two Lee seats are now known as 'Lee Hall' and 'Langley' in Fairfax, and that 'Lee Coton' or 'Coton' is another Lee mansion in Loudoun Co., Va., but that as to their present condition he can give little information, and he refers you to Mr. Cassius F. Lee of Alexandria.

"I am very truly, etc.,

"Wilson Miles Cary."

From the above it seems certain that different members of the family in America called their places "Ditchley," "Langley," and "Coton," and it appears from Colonel Richard's will, for a copy of which I have to thank General Fitzhugh Lee, that none of these names were given in the testator's lifetime. As to any inference which can be drawn from them, the presumption on either side is counterbalanced by that on the other, and nothing is left to outweigh the manifest improbability arising from the date of Lucy Pigott's marriage.

Thirdly, as to the evidence against the Ditchley theory.

In the 'New England Historical and Genealogical Register' for January 1890, there is an article written by Mr. J. H. Lea to which I would refer any one interested in this question. Therein are cited the Inquisition Post Mortem of Sir Henry Lee, K.G., and the wills of the father, mother, three brothers, two nephews, and the great-nephew of the supposed Colonel Richard, not one of whom, though several had to provide for the succession to and entail of a large estate, ever mentions Richard's name! The conclusion drawn is, of course, that the seventh son of Sir Robert Lee died in youth. But further, Mr. Lea has taken a photograph of the monument at Hardwicke, shewing Sir Robert with his wife and family of eight sons and six daughters. He says: "Of the sons, five are bearded men, and three are smaller and beardless figures, the five first representing Henry, Edward, Thomas, George, and Robert, who we know attained their majority; while the latter depict Benedict, Antony, and Richard, who, unnamed in all the wills, are thus still further proved to have died in infancy or early youth." N.B.—We know that Benedict, one of the three, would have been forty at his father's death, having been baptized in 1576. Mr. Lea justly says that his proofs "speak for themselves, and must be convincing to any mind open to conviction." But other evidence against the Ditchley theory exists. There are in my possession and that of my cousin J. M. Wingfield, Esq., of Tickencote Hall, Rutland, original letters and papers which, together with other matters to be mentioned presently, prove beyond doubt that Colonel Richard Lee himself claimed descent from the Shropshire family, and that successive generations of his descendants did the same, certainly till the year 1824, and I believe up to 1868. The papers I refer to are—1, a letter written in 1771 by William, son of Thomas Lee of Stratford House, and great-grandson of Colonel Richard, to the Rev. Harry Lee, Warden of Winchester College, and son of Eldred Lancelot Lee of Coton Hall; in the possession of Mr. Wingfield. 2, a letter from the same to the same, also written in 1771; in the possession of the present writer. 3, an account of the Virginian branch, written by the same William Lee, and also in the possession of the present writer. 4, a number of letters from Archibald, fourth son, I believe, of Thomas Sim Lee of Maryland, to Harry Lancelot Lee of Coton Hall and his daughter, all in the possession of Mr. Wingfield, the last being dated 1824.

The first letter to the Warden of Winchester begins: "Sir,—It gave me much pleasure to find from a conversation with Mr. Batson, my banker, that we were of the same family. He tells me that you are the second son of the late Eldred Lancelot Lee of Coton. . . . I know your father corresponded with mine, who was one of the King's Privy Council in Virginia . . . . and I remember when a little boy in Virginia to have seen and read a very sensible letter and well written from your father to mine giving an accurate genealogical account of our family from so old a date as the Saxon Government. . . . ." He also speaks of "Richard Lee my great-grandfather who went there (to Virginia) one hundred and thirty years ago to this very day;" and asks whether the Earl of Litchfield is of the same family, as he has the same name. The letter ends,

"I am with Respect, Reverend Sir,

"Your most obedient servant and Kinsman,

"William Lee."

This letter is particularly interesting, as it proves a correspondence on family matters between the Coton family and Colonel Richard's grandson, Thomas Lee of Stratford House. How such a correspondence came about if Thomas Lee's grandfather was brother to Sir Henry Lee of Ditchley is for any one who holds that theory to explain.

GENEALOGICAL NOTES* RELATING TO THE FAMILY OF PIX.†

The arms of Thomas Pyxe, temp. Richard II. (according to Burke's 'General Armoury'), were, Azure, a fess between six crosses-crosslet fitchée or.

Arms of Pix of Hawkhurst, Kent: The same, except that the number of crosses-crosslet fitchée is three instead of six.

Crest: On a chapeau gules turned up ermine, a cross-crosslet fitchée or, between two wings expanded azure.

The origin of the name of Pix is given in Philipott's 'Survey of Kent' (1776 edition, pp. 240-1), as follows:—

"Little Barville is partly situated in this parish (Mongeham) and partly in Tilmanston. A family called Pix, and sometimes Picks, were, for some centuries of years, invested in the possession, and contracted this name, from some office (as the successive tradition of this family affirms) that they were anciently entrusted with, about the altar, and the utensils which related to it, amongst which the Pix was the most considerable as being the conservatory of the host; and so e Pixide nomen elicitum, from their care and custody of the Pix, they originally assumed their sirname. But to proceed; after this manor had for so many descents acknowledged this name and family, about the latter end of Queen Elizabeth, by sale it came to confess the signory of Crayford of Great Barville, with whose revenue the title and property does at this instant continue."

Hasted, in his account of the two manors of Barville, in the parish of Tilmanstone, says (iv., 205) that Great Barville "became the property of the family of Crayford of Mongeham, one of whom in the reign of Queen Elizabeth purchased Little Barville of the heirs of Pix, or Picks, as they were sometimes spelt, several of whom are mentioned in the register of this parish, but without any distinction of gentlemen; and thus these estates became again united in the possession of one and the same owner."

Other branches of the Pix family settled at Yalding, Folkestone, Elham, Goodnestone, Milton, Frinstead, Rucking, New Romney, Kennardington, Pluckley, Hawkhurst, Benenden, and Crayford, in Kent; and at Ewhurst and Northiam, in Sussex. There are descendants of this name still residing at Northiam, Rye, and Peasmarsh in the same county. See accompanying Pedigree of the Family of Pix.

Lee of Virginia.‡

The second letter encloses the account of the Virginian branch, and refers to a cup at Queen's College, Oxford, given by John Lee, the eldest son of Colonel Richard. It proceeds: "From further conversation with Mr. Batson I am inclined to think it must be your brother that corresponded with my father Thomas Lee of Stratford in Virginia, since the letter I mentioned was wrote about the time of the famous contest in Bridgnorth for a member of Parliament in the latter days of Sir Robert Walpole." It is signed,

"Your most obedient humble servant and Relation,
"William Lee."

The account of the Virginian branch begins, "Richard Lee of a good family in Shropshire, and whose picture I am told is now at Coton near Bridgnorth, the seat of Lancelot Lee, Esq.," and deals chiefly with the second son, Richard, and his descendants. In speaking of this Richard (his own grandfather) the writer says: "He spent almost his whole life in study, and usually wrote his notes in Greek, Hebrew, or Latin .... so that he neither improved nor diminished his Paternal estate." That estate appears from his father's will to have been the plantation Paradise. It has been thought that this Richard was the builder of Ditchley, but it seems improbable from his grandson's description of him. In any case he could have only taken the name as he might have done any other, or because he believed in some connection between the Shropshire and Oxfordshire Lees, for on his tomb may be seen to this day an inscription declaring his Shropshire origin: "Hic conditur corpus Ricardi Lee armigeri nati in Virginia fili Ricardi Lee, generosi, et antiqua familia in Merton Regis in comitatu Salopsiensi oriundi."

John Lee, the eldest son, was at Queen's College, Oxford, and the cup referred to in William Lee's letter is still there. It bears the arms of Lee of Langley and Coton—viz., a fess chequy between eight billets—and the following inscription: "Coll. Regi. Oxon. D.D. Johan'is Lee Natus in Capohowasick Wickacomoco in Virginia America Filius Primogenitus Richardi Lee Chiliarchæ Oriundi de Morton Regis in Agro Salopiensi, 1658." That the donor of a cup with the above arms and inscription was nephew to Sir Henry Lee of Ditchley, living within a ride of that very house, is incredible.

* Sic, but her name was Catherine.
† Note, this is an error, it ought to have been Mrs Jane Medley. H. Kingsmill, Rr.
‡ Concluded from p. 109.

Now let us see what view Colonel Richard himself took of his origin. In a book by John Gibbon, Blue Mantle, dated 1682, and entitled 'Introductio ad Latinam Blasoniam,' the following passage occurs at page 156: "A great part of Anno 1659 till February the year following I lived in Virginia, being most hospitably entertained by the Honourable Colonel Richard Lee, some time Secretary of State there; and who after the King's martyrdom hired a Dutch vessel, freighted her himself, went to Brussels, surrendered up Sir William Barcklaie's old commission (for the Government of that Province) and received a new one from his present Majesty (a loyal action and deserving my commemoration). Neither will I omit his arms, being Gul. a Fes chequy or, Bl. between eight Billets arg., being descended from the Lees of Shropshire who sometimes bore eight billets, sometimes ten, and sometimes the Fesse countercompone (as I have seen by our Office records)." It is difficult to conceive any reason why Gibbon, an official of the Heralds' College, should have made the above statement as to the arms borne by Colonel Richard Lee unless it were true, and the cup at Queen's makes assurance doubly sure. But there is yet another witness. In the E. D. N. Alphabet at the Heralds' College, a collection of arms made about temp. Chas. II., there is the following entry: "Salop—Lee—G. a fess chequy or and az. betw. 8 billets arg. Colonel Ric^{d} Lee Secretary of State in Virginia Anno 1659. Descended from the Lees in Shropshire (who sometimes bore 8 billets, sometimes 10, and sometimes the fess countercompone)." The E. D. N. Alphabet is of no authority as to a right to bear arms, but is valuable as being probably the only work in existence which gives an account of the arms which were then or had been formerly made use of. The entry establishes the fact that Colonel Richard Lee used the arms of the Lees of Shropshire, but does not settle the question whether his claim to belong to that family had any foundation.

We have now therefore the following facts on which to base our judgment as to whether Richard Lee was brother to Sir Henry Lee of Ditchley:—

1. He claimed to belong to the Lees of Shropshire, as proved by his bearing the arms of that family.

2. His eldest son did the same, and recorded it at his College. Date on cup, 1658.

3. His second son's representatives did the same, as proved by the inscription on the tombstone (date of death, 1714); and one grandson—Thomas—corresponded with the head of the family at Coton about 1740.

4. His great-grandson William did the same, 1771; and another great-grandson, Richard Henry, is mentioned in Campbell's 'History of Virginia' as bearing the motto of the Shropshire family.

5. After the death of William Lee in 1795, Archibald Lee kept up the relationship, staying at Coton and corresponding with the family till 1824; and, finally, within the last few years I have had the pleasure of meeting one of General Lee's children, who told me that until quite lately no doubt as to their Shropshire origin had ever existed among the members of the Virginian branch.

A letter now lies before me from a gentleman who was in America in 1867, and had some correspondence with General Lee as to his ancestry. He writes:

"I am afraid I have sent you all I have on the subject of General Lee. I know that he said he was descended from the Shropshire Lees."

"Yours sincerely,

"H. Lee Warner."

The italics are mine.

In his paper already referred to, Mr. J. H. Lea has shewn good reasons for holding that the seventh son of Sir Robert Lee of Hulcott died in youth, reasons which become the more convincing the more closely the evidence is examined. If, however, he survived, cut out of the succession, ignored by all his relations, not even mentioned in the will of father or mother, considered as one dead, and even represented as such on his father's monument, then I have shewn—1st, the extreme improbability of his being the man who was going to Virginia with a young family in 1663; and 2nd, that Colonel Richard Lee undoubtedly claimed descent from the Lees of Shropshire, and that successive generations of his descendants have done the same for two hundred years. His immediate parentage has not yet been proved. There are, however, besides collateral branches, nine persons named in the Shropshire pedigree any one of whom might in point of time have been his father. The nine are Walter, Francis, and Edward, brothers of Sir Humphrey, the first baronet; and Edward, Gilbert, Jasper, Richard, Ferdinand, and Josiah, brothers of Thomas Lee of Coton. This Thomas had a son John, and the will of Gilbert Lee before referred to mentions brothers Richard and Josiah and nephew John. The inference that the testator was the brother of Thomas Lee of Coton is almost irresistible, though the fact is not absolutely proved.

The following memorandum has been sent to me shewing a natural connection between the founders of Virginia and the Shropshire Lees: "Sir Edmund Plowden, Knt., son of Francis Plowden of Plowden, Salop, had interests in America about 1632-42. John Eldred (1552-1632) of Great Saxham, was one of the leading founders of Virginia. Member of His Majesty's Council for the Virginia Company of London 1609-24." Now Maria Lee, aunt of Sir Humphrey, married Edward Plowden of Plowden, and Thomas Lee of Coton married Dorothy, John Eldred's granddaughter in 1649.

I believe that if the seventh son of Sir Robert Lee had been living when the Inquisitions Post Mortem of his cousin and eldest brother were taken, his name must have appeared with those of the other remainder-men, but in any case it is proved by the evidence at the Heralds' College and at Oxford, with the account given by Gibbon, that Colonel Richard Lee was either of the Shropshire family or an impostor. If an impostor, how could he be of Ditchley? At the period in question, the two families were alike in position and rank. Each had received a baronetcy from James I., and each was of great antiquity, claiming descent from knights and gentlemen of high position before the ancestors of half the present Peerage had emerged from obscurity. Why should a member of either family try to pass himself off as belonging to the other? Yet this is the only hypothesis on which the Ditchley theory can any longer be upheld, and it is well to state it plainly for acceptance or rejection.

In conclusion, I have to thank the present owner of Ditchley for allowing me to quote the following sentence from a letter written to me in November 1890, after considering the evidence given above:—

"I must admit that I think you have proved your case, and there is nothing more to be done except to place the whole series of proofs on record in a compact form.

"Yours very truly,
"Harold Dillon."

Whether Colonel Richard Lee's immediate parentage can be determined it is as yet impossible to say. At any rate, the inquiry is being pursued, and the method now adopted is that of first searching out facts, and thence drawing conclusions. It is laborious, but in some respects seems preferable to the converse system, which has had a thorough trial.

Note.—The Richard Lee who married Elizabeth Langdon was the third son of Lancelot Lee of Coton. See the registered pedigree at the Heralds' College, certified in 1623 by Sir Humphrey Lee of Langley; in 1663 by Thomas Lee of Coton, brother to the above Richard; and in 1891 by the present writer. In the pedigree referred to at the beginning of this paper the account of the Virginian branch is full of errors; while not only is Col. Richard Lee's origin assumed without a shadow of proof, but his wife, the mother of all his children, is stated to have been the above-mentioned Elizabeth Langdon. As a matter of fact his wife's name was Anna. Her surname is at present unknown.

THE GROVES OF BAULKING, BERKS.

In the church there is a tablet to a Robert Grove, gent., and Margaret his wife. He died in 1698, aged 63, and left four children. The coat of arms is Ermine, on a chevron three escallops. I should be obliged by any information as to the colour of the chevron and escallops, and also as to the names of the four children and the ancestry of Robert Grove.

C. A.

REV. EDMOND BROOKE.

At the date of the Parliamentary Church Survey, 1649, the Rev. Edmond Brooke was found to be ministering at Brotherton, co. York, and is in the Survey described as "a constant preaching minister, twice every Sabbath Day; receiving the Vicar's profits, and performing the Cure." He was still there 1651—54, as appears by the entries at those dates in the Parish Registers of the baptisms of two sons, Edmund and Nathaniel (who grew up, and settled at Bolton-le-Moors, co. Lanc., their father's birthplace). His wife bore the uncommon Christian name of Fidelia, and a daughter married George Eskricke of Howden, gent. Further information concerning him is greatly desired—his marriage, subsequent career, and place of death.

Dated 14 November 1780; proved 3 May 1788.

There is, in all probability, no connection between this family and the Floyers of Devonshire and Dorsetshire. They bore the same arms, but in an early Visitation of Staffordshire their right is disputed, and no proof was forthcoming. They had a confirmation of them in a later Visitation, but this was most likely given because they had by that time borne them for two or three generations. The name was invariably spelt Flyer and Flyar from their earliest record (middle of the sixteenth century), and this spelling was continued in the elder branch until at all events 1723, and in the present and younger branch until the end of the seventeenth century. The Devonshire Floyers never spelt it in this way. Several genealogists have made the mistake of connecting the two families without sufficiently examining the evidence.

1797 June 2 John Griffin Griffin, Lord Howard de Walden and Lord Braybrooke of Braybrooke in the County of Northampton, in the Family Vault with his ancestors. The Procession from the House began at eleven o'Clock ; and the Concourse of people of all ranks who were assembled at this awful solemnity, to offer the last mark of esteem for that truly respectable Nobleman was very great. The funeral service was read by the reverend D^r^ Hamilton, Archdeacon of Colchester :—and accompanied by the heartfelt sorrow of multitudes who have lost a most valuable Protector & Friend. To retail his several & numerous perfections, would indeed be an arduous attempt :—suffice it to say of him, that if unfeigned Piety—if Humanity,—Beneficence,—Charity,—Philanthropy be virtues estimable in Heaven,—laudable on Earth ; all these he practised in a very superior manner :—for these he will be rewarded Above,—& long, very long, recorded on the memory of every grateful survivor.

His Lordship died full of years, & earthly honours, on the twenty fifth day of May last, in the 79^th^ year of his Age. Lamented by no one more sincerely than by him who attempts this imperfect sketch of his Character, his very humble & most obliged friend for 32 years, during the 26 last of which he officiated daily, as his domestic Chaplain, in the Chapel in Audley End House.

W. Gretton.

1807 Aug. 25 Katherine, Baroness Howard de Walden & Braybroke, Relict of John, Lord Howard de Walden, etc. She died Aug^t^ 15, 1807, aged 59 years. The funeral was conducted in as private a manner as possible, by her Ladyship's particular desire.

Nicholas Bull, Vicar.

N.B. Her remains were placed beside those of her late Lord in the family Vault of his ancestors.

LEE OF VIRGINIA. (See pp. 107, 124.)

Notes in the Author's handwriting from a copy of John Gibbon's 'Introductio ad Latinam Blasoniam,' 1682, in the possession of W. B. Lee, Esq.

Ego Author hujus libri donavi eundem Bibliothecæ Collegii nuper fundati in Virginia: Sic Testor propria mea manuscriptione ætatis meæ 87. 1717. Iohannes Gybbon. Mentionem facio de memet et Honorando Viro Ricardo Lee p. 156 ubi sua insignia (sive scutum gentilitium) exhibentur.*

p. 157 I speake of my descent paternall and maternall and of the Reason of my going to Virginia in the next leafe p. 2nd.

Collonell Lee, mentioned p. 156 of this Booke had a faire estate in Virginia. The product of his Tobacco amounted to 2000£ per annum: Hee was willing to end his daies in England and send over one to reside as generall Inspectour and overseer of his severall plantations. I was recommended to him as a fitt and Trusty person having beene a servant to Thomas Lord Coventry the Richest Baron of England, etc. I accepted of Collonell Lees proffer—wee arrived in Virginia the last of October 1659 and 9 br 2d came to the Collonells house at Dividing Creeks. Before Hee could settle Things for his finall departure and settling in England wee had news from Newe England of ye Kings Restauration.

The Collonell was willing to hasten for England and I as willing as Hee, having Hopes to gett some employment by meanes of Inº Ld Culpeper, to whom my family had relation by marriage But Hee was dead before I reached England. We arrived at Mergate in Kent friday 22 March $16\frac{60}{61}$ my leaving Virginia I have sorely since repentd. Hee made mee generous proffers of mariage & offered mee 1000 Acres of Ground.

* The Coat of Arms described and figured on page 156 is that of Lee of Langley and Coton Hall, Salop; viz., A fesse chequy between eight billets. This confirmation in 1717 of what the writer, an official of the College of Arms, had stated as to Col. Lee's armorial bearings thirty-five years before, is interesting. It is clear also that he was on terms of the greatest intimacy with the Colonel.—W. B. L.

Genealogical Notes and Queries.

SOMNER MEMORANDA.

In the memoranda printed in the 'Mis. Gen. et Her.,' Second Series, vol. v., p. 121, an error has been made in attaching the note—an extract from the life of Somner printed in his history of "Gavelkind"—to Elizabeth, wife of William Somner of Lyminge of 1692; this note applies to Elizabeth, first wife of William Somner his father, which William died in 1669, and whose epitaph is printed on p. 100 of the same volume of 'Mis. Gen. et Her.'

The writer of the life of Somner in the history of "Gavelkind" is in error in stating that William Somner was in 1726 living and then Vicar of Lyminge. Hasted records his death in 1693, and the induction of his successor in November of the same year; moreover, his widow Elizabeth remarried to Robert Cruttale of Tenterden by Licence dated 24 April 1697.

Carter and Andrews Pedigree.

Can any of your readers give me any information as to the pedigree or place of residence of Thomas Carter, who married Susan, daughter of John Andrews, and had issue two daughters: (1) Mary, born 2 Jan. 1721, married 22 September 1743 to Samuel Holland; (2) Hannah, born 22 March 1724, married to John Willott of Chesterfield, Surgeon?

I am in possession of some old china bearing the Carter arms, viz.: Azure, two lions combattant or; Crest, A lion's head proper on a wreath or and azure. I have also the bookplate of Thomas Carter with arms, Carter impaling Andrews (see Plate). Susan, the wife of Thomas Carter, was the daughter of John Andrews, by his first wife Elizabeth Style. She had three married sisters, viz.: (1) Elizabeth, married to Joseph Clark, who had issue a daughter Elizabeth, who married William Jukes; (2) Margaret, married to Thomas Hatfield, who had issue a daughter Anthonina, who married Edward Wilmot; and (3) Hannah, married to William Harrison, who had issue three sons and a daughter, two of the sons Andrews Harrison and John Harrison lived at Widmore near Bromley, Kent, and died in 1816 and 1813 respectively.

Mrs. Carter's father John Andrews was thrice married, and by his second wife Elizabeth Batt he had also issue two sons and a daughter. One of the sons died young, the other, John Andrews, married Barbary Carter, and the daughter Sibilla married Thomas Corbett.

Possibly the above particulars of the Andrews pedigree may assist in the identification of the Carter family, in whose genealogy I am interested.

Maria Evelyn, 6th da., a nun.

Margaret Evelyn, youngest da., mar. John Knatchbull of co. Kent.

George Evelyn, bapt. at St. Martin's in the Fields, London, 3 Dec. 1623; entered at the Middle Temple in Nov. 1648; died young.

Mountjoy Evelyn, went to Maryland and Virginia; he owned land on the James River.

Charles Evelyn. = Jane, da. of Sir Thomas Evelyn of Long Ditton.

John Evelyn. = Susannah, da. of . . . .; she died his widow 1680; bur. at Streatham.

Jane Evelyn, mar. . . . . Freeman of the co. of Gloucester.

Rebecca Evelyn, 2nd da., died unmar.; bur. at Godstone 29 Dec. 1701.

I have not been as yet able to carry this pedigree further.

Query, who is Rebecca Evelyn? In the Burial Register of St. Giles in the Fields, London, 12 Jan. 170½, Mistress Rebecca Eveling, carried away 12 Jan. 170½. Also in Register of St. Martin's in the Fields, 14 August 1701, George Evelyn, of St. Giles in the Fields, married Rebecca Rollinson, of Covent Garden; these Rebeccas seem identical. It can scarcely be the first wife of George Evelyn of Rooks' Nest, who married secondly Mary Garth. Also in Register of St. Nicholas, Deptford, 8 Sept. 1716, George, son of Sir George Evelyn, Knight, from Que (sic) in Surrey, buried. Also in Register of St. Nicholas, Deptford, 8 Dec. 1752, Master Charles Evelyn from London, buried.

Genealogical Notes and Queries.

ASTLEY—CRUSE.

In the pedigree of Astley of Hill Morton, Thomas Astley is said to have married three wives: firstly, Ann, daughter of Edward Boughton of Lawford, co. Warwick (?); secondly, Ann Wode, who died 1522; and thirdly, Ann Cruse of Warwick, who had three sons, John, Thomas, and Richard. I should be glad to know what was the parentage of Ann Cruse and the family arms.

DRURY.

I shall be exceedingly grateful to any one who can give me information respecting the parentage and descent of Robert Drury, gentleman, of Weston-sub-Edge, co. Gloucester, who was born about 1700. Also whom he married, and where he was buried.

EXELBY FAMILY.

Miles Exelby of Stoke Nayland, co. Suffolk, gent. To be buried at Stoke Nayland. Son Miles Exelby with the aid and advice of brother [in law] Hankyn and M^r^ Thomas Pursloe to provide out of testator's goods, etc., a competent sum for the stocking of "my farm of Scottlandhill," the lease and stock to be delivered to sister Jane for 3 years—and she out of rents and profits to pay my two daughters Bridget and Thomasin each £20 at the end of the first and second years respectively, and to son William £30 at the end of third year, but because my said son is young my friends abovenamed and son Miles to have the disposing thereof until he come to the age of 24 years as well for the providing of him with some good work and trade as for the further increasing of his portion. When three years are expired sister Jane to deliver up the lease and Stock to son Miles he paying her £20. Son Miles to pay Alice my daughter and his sister now with my brother Luckyn [doubtless one of the Essex family of that name] of Dedham £10, to be paid to her at the age of 21 years. To my brother John Hankyn and M^r^ Thomas Pursloe each of them an angel to buy them a ring to wear for a remembrance of me—they to be supervisors of my will. Residue to Miles my son and he sole executor. Dated 14 Dec. 14 Jas. I. Sealed and delivered in the presence of us and because it was not ready it was sealed up with three several seals, two of them in the keeping of us, the said Witnesses, Thomas Hankyn, Robert Bro, Myles Exelbye. Proved at Bury S^t^ Edmunds 31 Jany. 1616, by the Executor named.

Miles Exelby the testator was born in 1574, he was sometime of Bardwell, Suffolk, and appears to have been three times married. The Bardwell registers contain the baptism of his daughter Thomasin (1599), mother's name Bridget [probably Passmore]; burial of Bridget the wife in 1600; baptism of a son Robert in 1602, mother Rebecca, he apparently died young; baptism of son William in 1603; and daughter Elizabeth [perhaps the Bridget of the will] in 1605, mother's name Elizabeth [perhaps Luckyn]. The testator's sister Elizabeth had married John Hankin, gent., in 1589, and his sister Jane or Joan mentioned in his will married Henry Hankin, gent., in 1594. His brother Richard married at Bardwell in 1608 Alice Garrold.

I should be glad of any further particulars. Entries relating to the family will probably be found in Suffolk parish registers, etc. There may be some connection between this family and the William Exelby of Lynn Regis, Norfolk, of whose goods administration was granted March 12, 1667-8, to Thomas Exelby his son; at the same time administration was also granted to this Thomas of the goods of his brother Jonah Exelby, late of foreign parts, deceased, a bachelor.

"The Public Advertizer" (London), 18 October 1769, contains the following announcement: "On Sunday died at Camberwell, aged 71, Walter Exelbee, esquire, an eminent scarlet dyer in Southwark, worth £70,000." He was not buried either at Camberwell or Southwark, and I have failed to discover any further trace of him, or of a grant either of probate or administration. It seems strange that this should be so in a case of so much wealth. Can any of your readers give further information?

GREENWOOD OF NORWICH.

Miles (Michael, Mihill, or Millys) Grenewood of Mancroft Ward (St. Stephen's), Norwich, aged about 18, apprentice of William Rasshe, baker, was enrolled at a General Muster, 10 August, 37 Elizabeth (1595). He was married at St. Peter's Mancroft, 21 October 1599, to Anne Scath of Barnham Broome, and had children baptized at St. Peter's and St. Stephen's, of whom Miles the second was admitted citizen, 3 May 1627, after eight years' apprenticeship to John Robbs, worsted-weaver; traded to New England in winter of 1637; was living 1640 at Hingham; whose arms,* taken from "an Ancient Seal of His," says the Schedule, dated 1723, found among the Miscellaneous Pedigrees, vol. i. (collected by Sir Isaac Heard, Garter), now in the College of Arms, were Argent, a fess sable between three spur-rowels in chief and three ducks in base, all sable; and who was buried in Church of St. Michael-at-Pleas, Norwich, 3 September 1658, aged 58, leaving widow Abigail, son Miles the third, and several other children, of whom Nathaniel and Samuel, shipwrights, settled in Boston, N.E.

Miles, the eldest, and his wife Anne, both aged about 60 years, were still living in Norwich in 1637. Had he meanwhile lived at Sudbury, co. Suffolk, or was he the son of a Miles Greenwood, living at that place in 1608? Further information is desired as to his parentage, birth, baptism, death, will, etc.

He was a near relative of Thomas Grenewood, matriculated Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, 1581; B.A., 1585; M.A., 1588; of Funnell, 1591; Rector of Castor, near Norwich, 1592-1600; of Clipsham, co. Rutland, 1605; of Beccles, co. Suffolk, 1608; died in August 1638, at Hingham, where he had been filling the place of the Rector, Robert Peck, who had fled to New England. He had lands at Tharston, called "Cookes." Of his children, John was Sheriff and Alderman of Norwich, 1642-3; had lands at Beccles and Long Stratton, and houses in parishes of St. Michael-at-Pleas and St. Andrew's, where he was buried in December 1649, leaving widow Bridget, whose will of 1674 mentions her late husband's kinsman, Miles Greenwood the third, worsted-weaver of Norwich. Moses Greenwood, gentleman, of Barnham Broome, who died in November 1682, younger brother of Alderman John, had been apprenticed in June 1632, for seven years, to Miles Greenwood the second, worsted-weaver.

The Rev. Thomas Greenwood of Hingham, appears to have had several brothers in the ministry, viz:—

1. Edward; B.A., 1563, St. John's College, Cambridge; Vicar of St. Andrew's, Wood-Dawling, co. Norfolk, 1573; Rector of Gt. Dunham, 1580, where he died November 1591, owning houses and lands. His son Edward of Norwich, in will of 1608, mentions "Miles, son of Miles Greenwood of Sudbury," and Oliver Greenwood, who in 1595 was of St. Andrew's parish, and was brother of Henry Grenewood of St. Peter's Mancroft, Sheriff 1571, who died April 1591, leaving a married son John, born May 1550.

2. Henry; matriculated 1564, St. John's College, Cambridge; Vicar of Hatfield Peverell, co. Essex, 1596 to 1605, when he resigned.

* Edmondson's 'Heraldry' (Appendix) assigns to these arms the date 1594.

3. Robert; B.A., 1575, St. John's College, Cambridge; Rector of Heydon, 1576, where he had several children, and died 1601.

4. Christopher; B.A., 1579; M.A., 1582, Corpus Christi College, Cambridge; married Elizabeth (Roe ?), a kinswoman of Thomas Baxter, Esq., of Taseburgh (who died December 1611, aged 75); was Vicar of Shottesham (All Saints'), and died February 1607-8, having lands at Shipmeadow, near Beccles, and St. Faith's, near Norwich; his son Devereux,* B.A., 1611, Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge, died 1612, aged 21; another son John, who died in October 1663, was buried at Brampton, of which place he was the "ejected" Rector, and left to his son George the gold ring which he wore and with which his will was sealed; it bore the arms and crest of the Greenwoods of Yorkshire.

Brooke Family.*

The accompanying Pedigree is taken from the Collections of the late T. N. Ince of Wakefield, now in the possession of John Sykes, Esq., M.D., of Doncaster, to whose kindness I am indebted for a copy. I have taken the Pedigree one generation further back, and altered it in one or two particulars, which will be detailed. In the year 1868 I sent to the 'Miscellanea' copies of the Brooke Inscriptions in the Parish Church at Huddersfield; it will not be necessary therefore to refer to them again. Newhouse is a pleasantly situated house in the village of Sheepridge, about a mile and a half from Huddersfield.

The Arms of the Brookes were—Ermine, on a bend sable a hawk's lure with line and ring or. Motto: "En Dieu ma foy."

The first Thomas Brooke (1) seems to have been unknown to Somerset Herald. His will is dated 8 January 1553, and he mentions his wish to be buried in the Parish Church of Huddersfield; his daughters to live with their mother; alludes to Newhouse as lately built by himself. His wife Jennet, and John and George his sons, to be executors. Proved 27 June 1554. There is nothing known about his wife's parentage.

Thomas Brooke (2) was buried on the 27 April 1588, but no monument to his memory remains. His will was made in 1586; his children are not mentioned, but his wife Jennet is left sole executrix. Jennet or Joanna was daughter of John Hirst of Greenhead in the parish of Huddersfield, and is mentioned in her father's will, proved in 1582. She was buried at Huddersfield.

Thomas Brooke (3). Will dated 25 June 1624 and proved 4 January of the same year. He mentions that he is a widower; leaves 20s. a year to the poor of Huddersfield, his grandchild William Walker, son and heir of Henry Walker of the Old Hall alias Rockley, another grandchild Roger, son of Roger and Susan Rhodes. To his grandson Thomas Brooke he left "The cupboard in my parlour with 12 pieces of pewther stamped with the letters J. & C., one pewther cup, one table in the same parlor, also one long table in the House & two long buffets & cupboard in my said son Thomas's parlor, three great arkes & four iron ranges, also three stand beds," etc. This Thomas Brooke was the father of William, the founder of the Dodworth Branch.

(4) The will of Thomas Brooke was signed in 1638. He left his daughter Elizabeth £400 and £6 13s. 4d. per annum for her education. She married Matthew Prince, one of the principal freeholders in the parish of Woolley; his property was sold to the Wentworths for £7000. Thomas Brooke enjoined his son Joshua to maintain "Elizabeth my loving wife and Elizabeth my daughter at his table at Newhouse aforesaid with sufficient howserowme, fyrerowne, lodginge, meat & drink suitable to their callinges, so long only as my wife Elizabeth doth keep herself sole and unmarried, also during the same time to provide and buy & also keep for the said Elizabeth, my wife, one nagge or mare with his owne." He left also £20 to his widow, 40s. to Mr. Edward Hill, Vicar of Huddersfield, "not doubting but that he will make a Sermon amongste my frendes att my funeral." He also left 40s. to his cousin Hanson to buy a ring, to my sister Susan Rodes £10, and to the poor of Huddersfield £5.

(5) Elizabeth Brooke made her will in 1641, and made numerous bequests: "To the said John Whittell, my son, the ringe and Bible which his father gave me; to my loving daughter in law, Sara Brooke of Newhouse, my best silk gown; to my loving mother my second gown, my second bever hat, my best rideinge suite and all my Horse furniture; to my sister Margereye, wife of W^m^ Wilson of Saddleworth, Clerk, my best grogeram gown, my red chamlett petticoat & my best bever hat; to my sister Margaret, wife of my brother John Claye, two of my best gownes, two petticoats, together with a riding suite; 20s. to M^r^ Edward Hill, Vicar of Huddersfield, for a funeral sermon; to my daughter Elizabeth my better Bible and a gold ring that her father gave me."

(5) Thomas Brooke died unmarried the year before his father. The estate went to the next brother.

(6) Joshua Brooke was the last male of the Brookes of Newhouse. He was baptized at Huddersfield 9 October 1614, and died there in 1652. Little is known of this person beyond that he was a rich tanner. He gave the font-cover to the Parish Church of Huddersfield. He left no will, and his wife administered to his effects.

(7) Sarah Brooke, the eldest daughter and coheiress of her father, married Mr. John Gill. The Gills were a family of consideration, and their pedigree is given in Hunter's 'Hallamshire.' Sarah Gill was the sole issue of this marriage; she died early, and her father appears to have inherited her property. Mr. Gill was married three times; the last wife was Martha, daughter of Joshua Horton of Sowerby, Esq.; she was born in 1656, and died in 1689. By this lady Mr. Gill had three children; Westby the eldest sold his property and became a controller under the Board of Works, he died about 1746. John Gill the second brother lived with his sister Elizabeth, who married Benjamin Gregge, Esq., of Chambre Hall, Lancashire. Oliver Heywood, in his Diary, makes the following remarks on the old homestead of Newhouse: "By an observable call I was brought to M^rs^ Brooke's at Newhouse to keep a fast upon a special occasion, Nov. 18^th^ '73, & indeed I have very seldom found such enlargements & meltings of spirit. It may be God hath some design of good in that very ignorant place; the old woman was carnal, I fear, her daughters civil. M^r^ Gill, the young Gentleman that married the one, keeps a Kennel of Hounds, yet much affected."

The second daughter of Joshua Brooke married Mr. John Townley, head of the Hurstwood branch of the Townleys. He was Justice of the Peace and a Barrister-at-Law. The marriage took place in 1681 at Huddersfield. He was buried in 1704, and Mrs. Townley in 1719. There were two sons born of this marriage, but they both died young, and the property devolved upon two daughters, Hellen and Katherine. Hellen the elder married Mr. John Wilkinson, who, according to Oliver Heywood, inherited £600 a year from his father Matthew Wilkinson of Greenhead in Huddersfield. John Wilkinson bought the old estate of the Croslands of Crosland Hill, and was a wealthy man. He died in 1727 and was buried at Huddersfield; his wife survived him three years. Mr. Wilkinson left a son John, and a daughter Helen; the son died a bachelor in 1736, and all his property devolved upon his sister's son. Helen Wilkinson married Sir John Kaye, and died in 1729, leaving a son, Sir John Lister Kaye, who succeeded to his uncle John Wilkinson's estate. The property remained with the Kayes some time, but has now changed hands; the Crosland Hill estate belongs to the Battyes, the Greenhead estate partly to the Corporation of Huddersfield and to Sir John Ramsden, the old Newhouse estate also to the Ramsdens. The other daughter of Mr. John Townley was Catharine, wife of Mr. Richard White of the Tower of London.

MARSHALL.

Richard Marshall, dead before 1728, was Vicar of Tarvin, Cheshire. What was his ancestry?

C. T.

WALDO.

The following was found in the course of a search in the Registers of St. Mary, Whitechapel. It is the only occurrence of the name of Waldo in the marriage registers of that parish from 16 September 1770 to 16 September 1806 :—"1793, May 2. Henry Waldo, Bachelor, of this Parish, and Penelope Woodhouse, of the same. Banns."

GARTHWAITE FAMILY.

A copy of the Pedigree below mentioned, and any additional information relating to the following, will be gladly received by E. G. Farish, 57½ Old Broad Street, London, E.C.

A Pedigree which existed in 1849 of the Cotgreaves of Hargrave, co. Chester, the work of Camden, 1598, "contains the descents of five generations of the Garthwaites of Richmond, co. York, and Congleton, co. Chester, together with their marriages and armorial bearings, commencing with Edward Garthwaite, Esq^{re}, de Richmond and Congleton, living in ye reigns of Henry IV., Henry V., and Henry VI., who was slain whilst fighting on the part of the Yorkists at the Battle of Wakefield, A.D. 1460." The ancient arms of Garthwaite as depicted in this Cotgreave Pedigree were Azure, a fret or, "quartering the ensigns of the ancient houses of Fitz-Hugh, Pole, Vernon, Sutton, Neville, Latimer, and others. In the Pedigree Camden states that the aforesaid Edward Garthwaite, Esq^{re}, de Richmond and Congleton, quartered the ensigns of the above ancient families in right of his mother Elinor, daughter and coheire of Sir Edward Fitz-Hugh de Congleton and Elton in the County Palatine of Chester." On the Pedigree were "five shields containing twelve quarterings connected with the Garthwaite family."

Pedigree of Uvedale of Dorset.*

PEDIGREE A.

It is this Sir Thomas Uvedale who is said to have been the father of Henry Uvedale of More Crichell, died 1518, and ancestor of the Uvedales of Dorsetshire. The monument in More Crichell Church, which sets out the Pedigree, says "Henry Uvedale, second sonne of S Thomas Uvedale." (This S is a peculiar shaped letter, and being close up to the initial letter of Thomas there is no room for 'ir' or 'r.') I believe that one generation has been omitted, and that this Henry Uvedale was son of Thomas Uvedale living in 1474, a son of the above Sir Thomas by his third wife Margaret.

Agnes, da. of Gul. Genealogical Notes and Queries.

GARTHWAITE FAMILY. (Vol. V., p. 288.)

The pedigree which Mr. Farish desires to recover is evidently one of the fabrications of the notorious William Sidney Spence, and is therefore worthless.

A large number of these fabricated pedigrees were sold by him in 1849. They are always described as "the work of the learned Camden," and invariably contain an ancestor who was "slain whilst fighting" at some famous battle. "Ellen Cotgreave" attested them, and they purported to be extracted from originals in her possession. For further information see 'Notes and Queries,' 3rd Series, Vol. I.

H. S. G.

The above note having been submitted to me, I beg to thank H. S. G. For more than one reason I had suspicion that the alleged pedigree was not genuine. I was led to make the inquiry from an original letter dated 1849 signed William S. Spence, offering a copy of the Pedigree, "the work of the great Camden 1598," attested by "Miss Cotgreave," to the late J. D. Garthwaite, Esq., J.P., who, however, does not appear to have accepted the offer.

E. G. FARISH.

ALEXANDER.

Can any of your readers put me in the way of obtaining some genealogical information that I very much desire. James Alexander, born in Scotland May 1691, came to New York in 1715, where he was very prominently engaged in Colonial matters. His son William Alexander commenced proceedings before Parliament in 1760, to be judicially recognized as the next male heir to the earldom of Stirling, but failed to make out a case. I want to know 1st, the maiden name of James Alexander's mother, and the date of her birth, marriage, and death; 2nd, the name of his father and the date of his birth and death; 3rd, the birthplace of James. I do not know the name of either the parish or county from which he came. William Alexander must have had among the papers in support of his claim a chart shewing his pedigree. The last action taken by Parliament with reference to his case was on March 10, 1762.

Bacon Wills.*

In the Name of God, Amen. I William Bacon of Pakefield the elder in the County of Suffolke, Clarke, being very much in yeares but of sound and perfect mind and memory, blessed be God therefore, doe hereby ordaine & make this my Last Will and Testament in manner followeth revokeing & disannulling & absolutely makeing void and of noe effect all or any former or other Will or Wills by me at any time heretofore made. And here in ffirst of all I com'end my Soule into the hands of God firmly beleeving & hopeing to be saved by Christ his Righteousnesse imputed to me and the meritts of his death and passion, And my body I com'end to the earth from whence originally it came decently to be interred & laid there till God shall please to raise it from thence againe and make it a glorious body at the Resurrection of the just. And as to those Outward and Worldly Comforts afforded me in this Life I doe hereby dispose of them as followeth that is to say: First I give & bequeath unto Benjamin Bacon my eldest sonne now liveing All such my Lands & tenem^{ts} with barnes stables and all other their app^{r}tenances as I purchased of Christopher Husband of Great Yarmouth in the County of Norff., Woollen Draper, Contayning by Estimation threescore acres more or lesse scituate lyeing & being in the Town of Benacre in the County of Suffolke To have & to hold the said Lands & tenem^{ts} with barnes stables and their app'ten'nc's unto the said Benjamin Bacon my Sonne dureing the time & terme of his naturall Life And after his decease I doe hereby give all the forementioned p^{r}misses that is to say all the said Lands & tenem^{ts} with barnes stables & app'ten'nces thereto belonging unto Benjamin Bacon my Grand Child and the heyres of his body Lawfully begotten for ever. And for want of such issue of his body Lawfully begotten Then I give all the foresaid p^{r}misses to Anne Bacon my Grandchild & to her heyres and Assignes for ever. Provided notwithstanding that the said Benjamin Bacon my Sonne shall after my decease surrender all such Coppyhold Lands as lye amongst other of my said Lands in Benacre already assured & settled upon William Bacon my Sonne & Mary his now wife into the hands of the Lord of the Mannor of Benacre to such use & uses as are menc'oned & expressed & intended to be so surrendered in a paire of Indentures made betwixt me William Bacon the father on the one part and Robert Lincolne & Robert Baker in trust on the other part that is to say to the use and behoofe of him the said William Bacon the son and Mary his wife and the issue of their two bodies lawfully begotten betwixt them and for want of such issue then to returne to the right & next heyres of me the said William Bacon the ffather according as the rest of the Lands thereto belonging being ffreehold are likewise convayed & setled if he be thereto required and if he the said Benjamin my Sonne shall refuse to surrender the said Coppyhold Lands to the use or uses as aforesaid Then the first bequest & guift of the Lands and Tenem^{ts} to Benjamin Bacon my sonne shall be utterly void and of none effect to him but be and remayne to William Bacon my sonne & to his heyres for ever. Item I give to Benjamin Bacon my sonne my gold sealeing Ring upon my finger and one silver bowle or Cup for his use for his life time and after his decease the said bowle or Cup I give to Ann Bacon his daughter my grandchild and her Assignes for ever. Item I give unto William Bacon my second sonne All those other my Lands and tenem^{ts} in Benacre in the County of Suffolke which I purchased of ffrancis Mowe of Wrentham, gent., Thomas Girling of Stoven, gent., Thomas Crowfort of Uggeshall, gent., and Thomas Girling of Rusher [sic], gent., all in the County of Suffolke & others To have & to hold to him and Mary his wife and the issue of their two bodyes according to the settlement thereof made unto them & not otherwise. Item I give to William Bacon my sonne & to Mary his wife one Silver Cupp or bowle and two paire of sheetes & two paire of pillow beers and most of my personall estate I would have given them if they had not importuned me soe farr as to prevaile with me to settle my Lands upon them upon their Marriage which otherwise I had settled upon Sarah Bacon my daughter in a former Will. Item I give unto Sarah my onely daughter All the rest of my personall estate of what kind it be my moneys bonds bills plate brasse pewter Wollen Linnen bedding & all other household stuffe and implements of householdry and all my books whatsoever they be & debts justly oweing & due from any person or persons whatsoever my horses Carts and all other goods & cattell & things that I have in or out of my possession. Provided always that if William Bacon my Sonne shall well & truly in hand pay or give good & sufficient security for the payment well & truly of the full sum'e of ffifty pounds with interest thereof for such time or yeares as they two shall agree upon & Consent unto that Then Sarah my daughter upon the payment of such sum'e of money or good & sufficient security for the same shall deliver all my said books to William Bacon my Sonne exceptionely and reserveing some English bookes for her owne use & reading. Item I give unto Sarah Bacon my daughter that my house in the Street with the yards and app't'n'nc's wherein Benjamin my sonne now dwells & to her heyres & Assignes for ever: The said Benjamin my sonne to Live in it rent free onely till the feast of S^{t} Michael next & first comeing after my decease. Provided always and my intention & meaning is and I doe hereby bequeath & give out of all my said goods & personall estate the sum'e of Threescore pounds of Lawfull money of England unto Elizabeth the daughter of Rachel Bacon my daughter deceased when she shall come to & attayne the age of One & Twenty yeares or her day of Marriage which shall come first & soonest, And in meantime to be educated & brought up with good meate drinke Clothing & learning as farr as she shall be Capable of till it please God she can be serviceable to earne and gett her owne Liveing And this I Charge Sara Bacon my daughter to take speciall care to see done hopeing also that William Bacon my sonne to whom I have given more than Ever I thought to have done will have an helping hand & overseeing eye for that purpose, And Sara Bacon I doe hereby appoint nominate and make sole Executrix of this my last Will and Thomas Cammell of Worlingham my good and true old ffriend Supervisor hereof to see that my Executrix may not be wronged being herself young and I doe give him Twenty shillings for his paines & care for her. In testimony that this is my true Last Will and Testament I have hereto sett my hand & seale this ffourteenth day of January in the Yeare of o^{r} Lord God One Thousand six hundred seaventy & Eight.

WILLIAM BACON, sen'.

LES QUATRE VENTS.

LIMOUSIN, FRANCE.

The seat of the Seigneurs de la Maillartre.

Les Quatre Vents, Limousin, France, the seat of the Seigneurs de la Maillartre, was built in 1685, and remained in the possession of that family until 1830. The Seigneurs de la Maillartre ranked amongst the oldest French landed aristocracy, and held large estates in the above-mentioned province. For many generations the chief seat was La Maillartre, from which the title was derived, but since 1685 the heads of the house resided at Les Quatre Vents. The younger members occupied such positions as Royal Notary, Public Prosecutor, Law Lieutenant of the District, etc.

The accompanying sketch is from a picture in the possession of Francis H. H. de Gaury, Esq., of Paddington, Middlesex, great-grandson of the last Seigneur de la Maillartre (the title of Seigneur being abolished at the Revolution of 1789), by the marriage of Jean Gaury-Lalande, Propriétaire, born 1763, died 10 April 1828 (son of Pierre de Gaury, born 1727, and his wife Marie, daughter of M. Berton), with Jeanne, who died 4 Jan. 1844, daughter of St. Pierre Mourier-de Lalande, Seigneur de la Maillartre, an officer in the Royal Armies, etc.

The family of Gaury, or de Gaury, which settled in England in the early part of the nineteenth century, having migrated from France, numbers amongst its ancestors François de Brettes, Equerry, Seigneur du Cros, standard bearer in the company of thirty lances commanded by M. de Merville, Grand Sénéchal of Guienne; created Chevalier of the Order of St. Michel by His Majesty King Charles IX., 6 Jan. 1571. The High and Puissant Seigneur Gédéon de Brettes, Marquis du Cros, Chevalier, Seigneur du Cros, du Masrocher, etc., who raised a troop of 100 men at his own expense for the King's army. Having lost a leg during active military service in 1631, he returned from the war by permit, dated 10 Aug. 1631, which included besides himself, his bodyguard, consisting of an Esquire, Boisbertrand, six retainers, and twenty horses. He married, 10 Dec. 1642, Claude Dreux, daughter of the late Messire Simon Dreux, Chevalier and Baron de Montrollet in Angoumois. Jean de Loudeix, Seigneur and Baron de Vérat, in Limousin, Captain of the Light Horse of the King's Guard, created Baron de Vérat, by letters patent in Nov. 1661, by His Majesty Louis XIV. at Fontainebleau, in consideration of great services rendered to the King, etc.

This family is at present represented in the persons of Mr. Francis Herbert Hillairet de Gaury, Mr. Arthur Jean de Gaury, Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England, and Mr. Hubert Stanley Buchanan de Gaury.

Genealogical Notes and Queries.

REYNOLDS OF IRELAND.

Humphrey Reynolds of Lough Scur, co. Leitrim, living about 1641, married Russel, third daughter of Sir James Ware, Knt., and sister to Sir James Ware the historian.

Connor Reynolds of Rhinn Castle, co. Westmeath, married Bridget, eldest daughter of Sir Thomas Nugent, 2nd Bart., of Moyrath or Clonlost, co. Westmeath.

James (? Thomas) Reynolds, Woolstapler, Dublin (supposed to be a son of the above Connor Reynolds), married (about 1680—1696) a Margaret (?) Lacy or Lascy, sister of Councillor Lacy or Lascy of Dublin.

Can any one favour me with the issue of each marriage ?

FITZGERALD.

BARBOR—POINTZ OR POYNTZ.

In the pedigree of Bellew of Stockleigh Court, co. Devon, I find the following:—Henry Bellew married Frances, daughter of William Barbor of Lary and Raleigh, co. Devon, by his wife the heiress of Pointz or Poyntz of Northcote and Bittadown. Also in the Mervyn Pedigree Lætitia Marshall, born 1754, died 1816, married in 1774 at Barnstaple William Barbor of Fremington.

Can any one tell me what relation William Barbor of Fremington was to William Barbor of Lary, and give me their pedigrees; also that of the heiress of Pointz or Poyntz who was wife of William Barbor of Lary ?
